RUSKIN MOSCOU FALTISCHEK ANNOUNCES EXPANSION

Our firm's dynamic growth continues with the addition of three distinguished new partners. This expansion reflects our commitment to rapidly escalating market needs for wide-ranging, innovative legal services, particularly in emerging and growth industries. "These three partners are each superb attorneys and exceptionally gifted in their respective fields," noted Managing Partner Mark S. Mulholland. "With their addition to the firm, we believe we have added greater strategic value to our clients while increasing our competitive advantage."

Stanley B. Klimberg, Esq. brings extensive experience and expertise to the firm's Energy and Construction Law practice groups. He is recognized as a preeminent leader in the energy industry, providing advice to developers of power plant and transmission line projects, engineering and construction companies, commercial energy users and utility companies.

From 1995-2007, Mr. Klimberg served as General Counsel of LIPA, managing its procurement of power plants and transmission lines and negotiating power purchase and transmission capacity agreements. Subsequently, he was appointed Executive Vice President and General Counsel of Hawkeye, LLC, a company specializing in construction of a wide range of energy facilities. In 2009, he was appointed Senior Vice President and General Counsel of Hawkeye's parent company, InfrastruX Group, LLC.

Mr. Klimberg began his legal career with the New York State Public Service Commission and has been General Counsel of the New York State Energy Office where he helped prepare the State's first Energy Master Plan.

John G. Farinacci, Esq., a member of the firm's Trusts & Estates Department, has built a winning reputation for his work in the area of trust and estate litigation. He has successfully handled numerous contested cases in the New York State Surrogate's Court, Supreme Court, Supreme Court Appellate Division and Court of Appeals. Mr. Farinacci also represents clients in estate planning, estate administration and guardianship matters.

Mr. Farinacci has been an active member of the New York State Bar Association Trusts and Estates Section since 1998, serving in various leadership roles. He is also a member of the Nassau County Bar Association Surrogate's Court Estates and Trusts Committee and serves as its current co-chair. He is a past recipient of Long Island Business News' 40 Under 40 Award and was presented with numerous certificates of merit for service and expertise in legal jurisprudence by the Nassau Academy of Law.

Douglas M. Nadjari, Esq. brings substantive experience in both health law and white-collar criminal defense to his new roles in the Health Law Department and White Collar Crime & Investigations practice group. Mr. Nadjari began his career in the Homicide Bureau and also served as Deputy Chief of the Investigations, Felony Trial and Major Frauds Bureaus in the Brooklyn District Attorney's Office, where he spearheaded the investigation and prosecution of homicide cases and health care and complex financial fraud cases.

Today, Mr. Nadjari's work primarily involves matters of physician discipline, hospital staff proceedings, managed care disputes as well as the defense of physicians and corporations in criminal, administrative and commercial disputes. Over the last twenty-five years Mr. Nadjari has defended physicians in complex misconduct proceedings. He is a member of the Nassau County Bar Association, New York State Bar Association, New York State Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys and the New York State Medical Defense Bar Association.
