EDUCATION

- Widener University School of Law (J.D. 1997)
- St. Johns University (B.A. 1994)

PRACTICE AREAS

- Alternative Dispute Resolution
- Estate, Trust and Fiduciary Litigation
- Trusts & Estates

John Farinacci is a partner and chair of the Trusts, Estates and Fiduciary Litigation practice group and a co-chair of the broader Trusts & Estates trust department. John is also a member of the Alternative Dispute Resolution practice group. John is a litigator with over a quarter of a century of experience who devotes his practice to complex trust and estate disputes.

John handles numerous contested cases, including both the prosecution and defense of contested probates/will contests, will and trust construction proceedings, contested fiduciary accounting proceedings, imprudent fiduciary investment cases, fiduciary negligence and malfeasance claims, contested guardianship proceedings, kinship proceedings, discovery and turnover proceedings, constructive trust proceedings, commercial and real estate disputes in which estates or trusts interests are implicated, elder financial exploitation cases and a broad variety of other disputes that relate to the affairs of a decedent or administration of an estate or trust. All of this has given John wide-ranging experience that touch upon multiple areas of law.

John's handles his cases from inception through trial and appeals. His litigation practice is most heavily concentrated in the Surrogate's Courts, but he routinely handles cases in New York State Supreme Court and he handles appeals to the Appellate Divisions and the New York State Court of Appeals. John has served as an expert witness on breaches of fiduciary duties in Federal Court and handles cases that relate to trust and estate issues in Federal District Court.

John has extensive experience in developing litigation-avoidance strategies as well as experience in resolving disputes through alternate dispute resolution methods such as mediation. John is a member of the firm's Alternate Dispute Resolution Practice Group as a trained mediator and has received advance training to mediate Surrogate's Court disputes specifically.

As a compliment to John's litigation practice, John has extensive experience in estate planning matters, probate, estate and trust administrations, guardianships and uncontested Surrogate's Court proceedings.

John's clients have included individual beneficiaries, heirs, executors, trustees, guardians and financial institutions serving as corporate fiduciaries.

John frequently lectures in continuing legal education programs on various trusts and estates topics.
