Prachi Ajmera is Of counsel to Ruskin Moscou Faltischek, P.C. and a member of the firm's Litigation Department.

Prachi has represented an array of clients ranging from individuals to major corporations in a wide range of cases. Throughout her career, she has represented real estate investment trusts, corporate entities, and healthcare networks in multimillion dollar suits. She has compiled an extraordinary track record of success handling a range of cases, including those involving breach of contract, intellectual property and trademark disputes, trade secrets, construction claims, real estate and employment law.

Having represented small, family owned businesses to international corporations, Prachi understands the unique needs of her clients and provides comprehensive risk assessment strategies accordingly. Prachi is a fierce advocate for her clients, whether they are the plaintiffs or defendants in a suit, and aims to resolve cases pre-litigation when possible.

Prachi has been recognized as a New York Metro Super Lawyers Rising Star in 2022, 2023, and 2024.

Prachi received her Juris Doctor (J.D.) from Brooklyn Law School. She received her undergraduate degree from New York University. Prachi is admitted to practice in the State of New York, the State of New Jersey, and the U.S. District Courts for the Southern District of New York and the Eastern District of New York.
